Congratulations PGP!

Parsons Green Prep School have won this year's Independent School Association (ISA) award for Outstanding Provision in STEM (science, technology, engineering and maths).

The ISA judges commented: 'Parsons Green Prep was chosen as the winning school due to their real life application method of teaching STEM which fosters lifelong interest in STEM subjects. This has been encouraged through practical projects involving problem solving, critical thinking and creativity. One project incorporating these three key areas of STEM was their space project based upon the Tim Peake mission.'
